

GNOICC “The Children Shall Lead Us: Annual Earth Day Celebration”

Sunday, April 24, 1:00 pm at Joe Brown Park (Park Shelter 2)

5601 Read Blvd, New Orleans, LA 70127

A family gathering to celebrate Earth’s natural resources as we raise awareness for our climate, environment, and all the creations surrounding us. We are working to restore our Earth by learning together and giving space for our children to lead us. Gather with us at beautiful Joe Brown Park, airwaves filled with sounds of Live Music and Food Trucks on-site to satisfy your appetite. We will have special guests, including Councilman District E Oliver Thomas. Many family-friendly activities are planned out such as Games and Art Projects for all ages, Kayaking or Canoeing, and Sky Breaks. Walk around the park and visit the tables with valuable community resources and informative presentations. Some are listed below:

- Community Resources and Presentations and participation:
 - Wheel of the Year, seasonal celebrations presentation by Bart Everson of Crescent City Gaian Guild
 - Voter Registration/Redistricting Information by Lower 9th Ward Voter’s Coalition
 - Pollution impact by Climate Reality Project: Greater New Orleans Chapter
 - Extinction Rebellion focus on SURVIVING and THRIVING
 - Creation Care by Greater New Orleans Interfaith Climate Coalition
 - Living with Water: caring for our community by NOLA READY
