About

Thank you for volunteering and learning with PP&R Urban Forestry! We plant, care for, study, advocate for, and celebrate Portland's glorious trees. Join us for tree inventory, stewardship events, workshops, and many other opportunities. Check the calendar for the most up-to-date offerings. There is a role for everyone in caring for our urban forest!

4. Register for event

Select event you are interested in attending by clicking on the colored box on the calendar. Sign Up for event using the link available; registrations are listed as “shifts” – this does not define the role you are selecting, it is the automated phrasing set by the program and will note if the role is anything other than an attendee of the workshop/event.

Irvington Tree Walk: Irvington's Changing Forest--A Century of Photographs Documenting Growth and Change

Saturday, October 19 2019

What: Irvington Tree Walk: Irvington's Changing Forest--A Century of Photographs Documenting Growth and Change
When: Saturday, October 19, 10 a.m. til about noon
Where: Meet at Augustana Lutheran Church at NE 15th and Knott under the Caucasian wingnut trees on Knott

Please join the Irvington Tree Team for a two-mile walk led by environmental historian Dave Hedberg. He will take us through Irvington matching historic photos of trees with current photos and the landscape around us where we will learn what has and has not changed in the area. We will also learn about the trees and the important lessons from our past.

Bring walking shoes and rain gear, just in case.

6. Log Volunteer Hours

After attending a workshop or event that you had registered for, you are able to log into Track It Forward and log the hours spent at the event. The administrator will verify and approve the hours to confirm attendance following the event.

If you have completed volunteer hours independent from an Urban Forestry hosted event, you are able to log these hours from your main dashboard. There is a section for "Log Hours", where you can write in the description of the volunteerism you have participated in and any other details.
